

WARRANTY

DESCRIPTION

The warranty described below strictly applies to the condenser unit (outdoor unit) and evaporator (indoor unit) (the "Parts") that come with your ApooDr air conditioning or heat pump system (the "System"). Subject to the following, the warranty will take effect upon System installation and cover any defect resulting from the System's normal use, as long as the System is not adapted, modified or damaged in any way, or exposed to conditions that could affect its operation. The warranty will be transferable during the initial term only.

The warranty will exclude all labour costs, including diagnostics, directly or indirectly related to the replacement of defective parts. ApooDr may choose to replace defective parts with new or refurbished parts.

The warranty also excludes costs related to System maintenance, including, but not limited to, filter changes and cleaning components, in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations.
