Soil Preparation

Great gardens start with great soil!
Soil preparation is essential for successful gardening.

Healthy soil should have good tilth, nutrient content, and a viable population of beneficial microorganisms. We recommend using natural and organic ingredients to prepare the soil and maintain soil fertility. It is always a good idea to have a soil test to identify your soil type (sandy, loam, silt, clay) and find out your soil pH.

NOTE: It is important to store correctly until planting. Store in a cool, dry place with plenty of air circulation. Plant in spring as soon as ground has thawed and soil has warmed to 50°F and is workable. Usually 4-6 weeks after the last frost.

Bulb Planting Instructions

1. Plant dahlias in the spring after the ground has thawed and there is no longer danger of frost.
2. Choose a location with well-drained soil that receives full sun. Loosen soil prior to planting.
3. Dig a hole in loosened soil 6" deep. Place the bare root in the hole with the roots/tubers down and any sprouts facing up. Space each bulb 12" apart.
4. Cover with soil and water well so that the soil above the bulbs settles. Keep soil moist during periods of dry weather but do not overwater.

About Dahlias

Garden State Bulb Go-Go Peach Dahlia Bare Roots are sourced directly from our farms and growers in Holland. They are carefully hand picked and checked for quality before shipment. These stunning dahlias feature beautiful peach petals that create a round bloom with a hint of honey. The colors vary from apricot to salmon, making it a captivating flower for your garden or potted on your porch. With a width of up to 5 inches and a height of 18 inches, these dahlias are sure to make a statement. Not only that, but they also attract butterflies and hummingbirds wherever they are planted. For optimal growth, plant these dahlias in full sun and well-drained soil, ideally in hardiness zones 8-10.
