

Van Zyverden's PINK LILY OF THE VALLEY

Lily Of The Valley Rosea bears pink flowers with a strong, sweet perfume in spring. Bell-like blooms hang from semi-pendulous stems with lance-like foliage. It can be an aggressive groundcover given the right conditions of partial shade and rich, moist soil. They are non-invasive and deer resistant. Lily Of The Valley can also be grown successfully in outdoor containers or indoors as a house plant.

Good naturalizer

Good container choice

Good woodland groundcover

About This Variety: This pink variety is not as vigorous as its white cousin but is very pretty.
