

Van Zyverden's DAYLILY PRIMAL SCREAM

The daylily (Hemerocallis) is considered a “sure bet” perennial, as they thrive throughout most of the country. They tolerate less than ideal conditions and will bloom faithfully for years with virtually no attention. As the name implies, daylily flowers open in the morning and die by nightfall. Each flower stem typically has at least a dozen flower buds, and the plant stays in bloom for many weeks. They should be planted in every garden.

chosen for its vibrant orange blooms

very easy to grow and drought tolerant success guaranteed

About This Variety: Daylily Primal Scream produces a real wow factor due to its large tangerine orange blooms. The blossoms are gigantic and distinctive and officially classified as "unusual form." As one of the most sought after daylilies it is sure to sell out early in the season. Winner of many awards, such as the 2003 Stout Medal. There is no higher award a daylily can receive.

Growing Instructions: Best planted in groups for dramatic effect in full sun, on moist, yet well drained soil. Excellent ground cover, as a single specimen, or in mass plantings to create a focal point in the garden.

Care Tip: They are tough robust plants, so not much can grow wrong. They do like an abundance of water.

Exposure: full sun to partial shade

Height: grows 34" tall

Spacing: plant 18-24" apart, just below soil line deep

USDA Zones: hardy in USDA zones 3-9
