

"California Proposition 65 Compliance" warnings.

Our wood furniture material is solid wood and E0 grade plywood, there will be a small amount of wood dust and formaldehyde or other elements on furniture, because we use paintings and cannot avoid this. This level of chemicals is safe and will not expose the customer to any health related risks.

All of our materials meet the USA and Canada exporting standards.

Many of the elements listed under Proposition 65 are everyday additives found in products. Besides there is a chance that wood dust or some other of the hundreds of ingredients listed in Proposition 65 could potentially be in one of our furniture or packing materials, we include Proposition 65 warnings on our products or risk large fines under the law in California. And even if the product may be found to contain trace amounts of a Proposition 65 listed substance, it does not mean that this product will cause cancer or birth defects. Our products are safe and do not pose a danger to the health of the customers.
