PROPER USAGE

Please note: Make sure the UltraHEPA and Carbon/Gas Trap/VOC Filters are properly installed before use.

1. Keep both sides of the unit more than 1 foot away from a wall.
2. Do not blow air from a fan or air conditioner directly into the air purifier.
3. Do not place the unit where the air inlet or outlet grill could come in contact with curtains or drapery.
4. Place the unit close to the source of air pollution to improve indoor air quality effectively.
5. Always place/keep the unit on the floor/ground.

OPERATING THE AIRDOCTOR 2000 AIR PURIFIER

Before first use, remove filters and remove plastic bags from the Carbon Filter, then reinstall filters and front cover.

Plug the unit into an electrical outlet, and it will be ready to run. Read the following instructions to select desired settings.

AIR QUALITY MONITOR

The AirDoctor comes with an Air Quality Monitor that continuously monitors the quality of air in a room. The LED indicator light, located on the top of the unit, will change colors based on the air quality in the room. The Air Quality Monitor is able to show three air quality levels.

BLUE = Good air quality / ORANGE = Fair air quality / RED = Poor air quality

You can choose to set the AirDoctor to Auto. This will enable the AirDoctor to adjust the fan speed according to the air quality. In Auto mode, the fan speed will be adjusted as follows:

Good Air Quality = Low fan speed

Fair Air Quality = Medium fan speed

Poor Air Quality = High and Boost fan speeds

CONTROL PANEL

1. Power Control

As soon as you press the power button , the AirDoctor will start in the Auto mode. Once the Auto mode has been activated, it will start up in the high-speed mode, and the sensor will start to detect the amount of particulate matter in the air. As the particles are detected, the AirDoctor will automatically adjust to the purification speed (fan speed) that is appropriate to the particulate contamination in the room.

In most cases, we recommend that you leave the AirDoctor in the Auto mode. For other purification modes, see the next page.

OPERATING THE AIRDOCTOR 2000 AIR PURIFIER

2. Fan Speed Control

The AirDoctor has four different fan speed settings: Low, Medium, High and Boost. Each mode has its own indicator light that lights up when the setting is chosen. The speed selected determines how rapidly you want to clean the air. The “Low” and “Medium” settings are great for everyday use. The “High” setting is great for areas with more airborne contaminants (such as excessive smoke, pet dander, etc.) or areas used frequently by allergy sufferers. The “BOOST” setting is best used for shorter bursts of time when you want to rapidly purify the air.

3. Auto Mode

The AirDoctor is equipped with an air quality sensor to monitor the quality of your air. Simply press the Auto button to activate the air-monitoring system. The monitor will test the air quality and automatically adjust the fan speed to remove the air contaminants. The LED ring is on the top of the unit to notify you of the air quality; RED color for poor, ORANGE for fair and BLUE for good quality air.

4. Dim Mode

If the LED lights are too bright, activate the “Dim Mode” to turn them off.

5. Timer Control

The AirDoctor Professional Air Purifier can be programmed to turn off after a preset amount of time. Press the “TIMER” button to program the timer. Each press will add 1 hour up to a total of 24 hours. Keeping the button pressed will automatically increase to 24 hours, 1 hour at a time. To turn off the timer, cycle through the numbers until you reach the beginning, and no numbers show on the display.

6. Ionizer

The ionizer generates negative ions. This helps boost filtration performance by causing contaminants to clump together and making them easier to capture, but also creates a fresh air feeling. Press the Ion button to turn on the Ionizer. Press it again to turn it off.

7. Replace Filter Indicator Light

The AirDoctor Replace Filter Indicator Light will turn on each time a filter needs to be replaced. To reset the Replace Filter alert after you have changed out the appropriate filter, press the Auto and Dim together for 3 seconds. The REPLACE FILTER light will flash three times and then turn off completely, indicating the unit has been reset.

8. 24-Hour Timer Display

CONTROL LOCK FEATURE

The AirDoctor has a control lock feature to prevent a person (child) or a pet from interrupting the running mode by accident. When the control lock feature has been activated, none of the buttons on the control panel will work. The only way to change any setting is to deactivate the control lock feature or to unplug the AirDoctor.

To activate control lock feature

- Press “Timer” and “Ion” at the same time for 3 seconds
- This may be done at any time while the AirDoctor is running, including on Dim mode

To deactivate control lock feature

- Press “Timer” and “Ion” at the same time for 3 seconds

MAINTENANCE

The AirDoctor professional air purifier is almost maintenance-free! The high-quality Carbon/Gas Trap/VOC Filter lasts up to 12 months, depending on use and environment conditions. Before replacing the UltraHEPA or Carbon/Gas Trap/VOC Filter of your AirDoctor professional air purifier, turn off and unplug the unit from the electrical outlet and read all safety instructions and important warnings in this owner’s manual.

REPLACING THE ULTRAHEPA AND CARBON/GAS TRAP/VOC FILTERS:

- 1. Make sure the unit is turned off and unplugged. With the front of the unit facing forward, pull the lid toward you at the upper end as shown and remove the front cover.
- 2. Remove the UltraHEPA and Carbon/Gas Trap/VOC Filters by lifting and pulling the tabs on both sides of the filters.
- 3. Insert the new filter(s) that need replacing, then insert the bottom of the inlet grill first and then snap the upper part of the front cover back into position.
- 4. To close the front cover, first make sure the bottom hooks are properly in place before snapping it up to its upright and locked position.

The importance of Genuine AirDoctor Replacement Filters!

Genuine AirDoctor replacement filters are guaranteed by AirDoctor and independently tested to remove dangerous airborne contaminants. Generic (third-party) aftermarket filters are of dubious quality, are not tested for effectiveness and are not certified to work with AirDoctor to maintain the Energy Star and CARB certification. AirDoctor has tested several generic filters that do not even meet the minimum HEPA standard. For air quality you can trust, and to maintain the optimal performance you depend on from AirDoctor, always use genuine AirDoctor replacement filters.

Warning: The use of generic, third-party replacement filters can damage your AirDoctor purifier and void your warranty.

CLEANING THE PRE-FILTER

- 1. Make sure the unit is turned off and unplugged. With the unit facing forward, pull the cover towards you at the upper end and remove the front cover.
- 2. Gently vacuum your Pre-Filter. You may do this monthly or as needed if there is more build-up.
- 3. After you've vacuumed your Pre-Filter, simply place the front cover back on your AirDoctor.

MAINTENANCE

CLEANING THE AIR QUALITY SENSOR

The AirDoctor is designed with an air quality sensor to track the quality of your air. Over time, the sensor can become dirty and may require cleaning. The main symptom of a dirty air quality sensor is the LED air quality monitor display that remains frozen on one light color. In order to clean it, you must use a vacuum cleaner to clear the sensor chamber.

- 1. Power off and unplug unit.
- 2. Locate and open the air quality sensor cover located on the side of the unit. (Fig. 1)
- 3. Use a vacuum cleaner hose to suction any dust or dirt that may have accumulated inside the monitor chamber. (Fig. 2)

SENSOR CLEANING MAINTENANCE

The lens of the air quality particle sensor may also need to be cleaned.

- 1. Power off and unplug unit.
- 2. Locate and open the air quality sensor cover located on the side of the unit. (Fig. 3)
- 3. Locate the lens of the air sensor located inside the air sensor. (Fig. 4)
- 4. Wet the one end of a cotton swab with water and wipe the lens to remove any debris. Then, dry the lens with the other end of the swab

Caution: Do not scratch the lens with a hard object.

FAQ & TROUBLESHOOTING

Before contacting our customer service department, please try the following solutions:

| QUESTION | ANSWER |
| How often should I change the filters? | UltraHEPA - 12 months Carbon/Gas Trap/VOC - 6 months |
| Can I wash my filters? | It is important that you never wash your UltraHEPA or Carbon/VOC Filters. Doing so will damage your filters, making them unusable. Your Pre-Filter was designed to be reusable. Avoid washing your Pre-Filter as you do not want to introduce any moisture onto the filters. We recommend vacuuming your Pre-Filter monthly for best maintenance and to extend the life of your filters until the next filter change. |
| How long is the power cord? | The power cord is 6 feet long. |
