DAYLILY ONCE IN A LIFETIME BLEND

The daylily (Hemerocallis) is considered a “sure bet” perennial, as they thrive throughout most of the country. They tolerate less than ideal conditions and will bloom faithfully for years with virtually no attention. As the name implies, daylily flowers open in the morning and die by nightfall. Each flower stem typically has at least a dozen flower buds, and the plant stays in bloom for many weeks. They should be planted in every garden.

Fragrant showy blooms which attract butterflies

Very easy to grow and drought tolerant

Success guaranteed

About This Variety: This striking Hemerocallis Blend consists of several unique varieties; Canadian Border Patrol, My Reggae Tiger and a purple bi-colored variety - Plus a few growers choice varieties for an unique mixture. Great garden accent and color impact. No two packs are 100% alike as they are packed and mixed at random.

Growing Instructions: Best planted in groups for dramatic effect in full sun, on moist, yet well drained soil. Excellent ground cover, as a single specimen, or in mass plantings to create a focal point in the garden.

Care Tip: They are tough robust plants, so not much can go wrong. They do like an abundance of water.

Blooms: Early to late summer

Exposure: Full Sun
