Re: California Proposition 65

To whom it may concern:

On June 19th 2015, Ethylene Glycol was added to the list of chemicals known to the State of California to cause reproductive toxicity for the purposes of California Proposition 65 (Prop 65). FlatOut QuickStrike Off-Road Formula contains Ethylene Glycol in reportable quantities.

In accordance with California state law, as it relates to Prop 65, all products containing chemicals in an amount that requires a warning must be labeled and include "clear" warnings. The language applicable to products containing Ethylene Glycol is:
