42" Width

Technical drawing of a rectangular metal component. The component has a height of $21\frac{1}{8}$ " and a width of $47"$. The front face features two vertical slots, each with a width of $42"$. The top edge is notched. A dimension line with an arrow indicates the height from the base to the top edge of the notched section. The drawing includes a coordinate system with an origin and axes.

Handles are made of Zinc Alloy, Chrome Plated

A 3D perspective diagram of a rectangular tank. The tank is shown from a top-down angle, revealing its interior. The bottom surface of the tank is marked with a dashed line, indicating the liquid level. A label '1/4" gap for liqu' is positioned in the bottom right corner, with a line pointing to the dashed line at the bottom of the tank. The tank's exterior is a solid gray, while the interior walls and bottom are represented by a dashed gray pattern.

A technical diagram of a shelving unit. The unit is shown from a three-quarter perspective, highlighting its depth and the placement of shelves. Key dimensions are labeled: 'Cut-out Size' indicates the overall opening width; '4.5" Depth' is the total depth of the unit; '4" Shelf Depth' is the height of the shelves; and '1/4" gap, for inner shelf drainage' is the gap between the inner shelf and the back wall. The diagram uses a combination of solid and dashed lines to represent different parts of the unit, and arrows point from the text labels to the corresponding features.
